

Gallatin Undergraduate Rationale: The new-human problem

Abhi Agarwal

The new-human problem. Suppose a new-human appeared on an island. The new-human is as perfectly capable of learning, reasoning, and viewing the world as we are. The new-human problem is to determine the obscurities in our society that exist that the new-human would have to learn to fit into our society.